IPS 2017 Facilities Utilization Task Force: External Community Members

Jeff Bennett, Mayor's Office	Deputy Mayor of Community Development. Jeff works to restructure/coordinate city departments to better serve neighborhoods, aiming to increase ease of interaction, break down bureaucratic silos, and improve customer service. Jeff.Bennett@indy.gov
Adrienne Slash, Leadership Indianapolis (LI)	A Republican politician, Adrienne is daughter of past Indy Urban League director Joe Slash. LI is a self-appointed entity proclaiming to develop/mobilize a pipeline of community leaders who address Indy's issues and advance its opportunities. www.leadershipindianapolis.com
Mark Sausser, lawyer Faegre Baker Daniels	Practices law in the real estate transactional area, including leasing, sales and financing of commercial, industrial and residential property. Mark's practice includes the development of retail centers and build-to-suit facilities for national retailers throughout the Midwest and in the Pacific Northwest. mark.sausser@FaegreBD.com
Nate Lichti, Illinois Facilities Fund (IFF)	Director of Real Estate Services. Nate and IFF offer affordable financing and real estate services at every stage of school development for public charter and private schools serving K-12 students in low-income communities. In Indiana, IFF manages the Indiana Charter School Facilities Fund, a statewide revolving loan fund to assist charter schools with facilities financing. www.iff.org/schools www.iff.org nlichti@iff.org
Bill Taft, Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC)	LISC Executive Director. Perhaps since 2005, the pioneer of urban renewal (aka gentrification: the displacement of Indy's original urban area residents), Bill/LISC made real estate development the theme of "urban renewal" (aka, the gentrification of Ft. Sq., Mass. Ave., E. 16 th St.). LISC inspired Great Places 2020 is Indy's latest gentrification move and supports IPS Innovation schools. greatplaces2020.org/l-o-v-e/ Bill's wife Joanna was instrumental in founding Herron HS and Riverside HS charters. http://liscindianapolis.org/ wtaft@lisc.org
Brad Bobich, Cornerstone Engineering, Inc. (CEI)	Brad is regional manager for CEI, a structural engineering consulting firm offering a full range of engineering services including analysis/design of structures, assessment/retro-fitting of existing structures, structural special inspections, and construction/project management services. www.cei-engineering.com brad@cei-engineering.com
Maury Plambeck, Indianapolis Neighborhood Resource Center (INRC)	Neighborhood Development Director for INRC. Maury is past director and city planner for Indy's Dept. of Metropolitan Development (DMD). In 2015, DMD adopted "Indy Rezone," Indy's plan to gentrify the city's zoning ordinance processes around real estate development. In early 2016, Maury held INRC workshops for neighborhood leaders/activists, professional land use attorneys, and members of the urban real estate development/re-development community on how Indy Rezone and the city's new variance and rezoning ordinances (aka gentrification) works. www.inrc.org mplambeck@inrc.org
Ezra Burdix DMT Real Estate	Heads DTM, a commercial real estate firm providing commercial real estate services. Ezra's knows land title insurance, residential and commercial real estate valuation, and commercial real estate brokerage. www.dtmrealestate.com eburdix@dtmrealestate.com
