

IDEA 68 Disconnections between the Civil Rights Generation and the Hip Hop Generation which can effect urban education and urban violence

The disconnect among generations, social class, and culture is perhaps the single most important challenge for supporters of the OpportunINDY initiative in reaching Marion County Black youth who are simply not motivated, interested, or inspired by community safety, criminal justice, and school reform efforts in which their urban identities are not represented.

This can be done by validating the oppositional culture of hip hop so that it might revive new and more inclusive forms of schooling and democratic possibilities.

<http://kinumedia.org/vorcreatex2/wp-content/uploads/2012/11/Civil-Rights-Generation-vs.-Hip-Hop-Generation-Considering-Black-youth-identity-and-the-promise-of-hip-hop-culture.pdf>