

IDEA 64 What is hip hop-based education doing in nice fields such as early childhood and elementary education?

In “What Is Hip-Hop-Based Education Doing in Nice Fields Such as Early Childhood and Elementary Education?” educator Bettina Love use theories of socio-cultural learning to examine how young urban children’s hip hop communities of practice influence their early learning and identities. Through personal narratives, her work theorizes young urban children’s hip hop identities by utilizing children’s situated learning activities.
